

I am outraged that a break through in technology that has resulted in the finest quality listening of radio is being attacked by the outdated and antiquated am/fm radio stations. I do hope our public authorities at the FCC and in congress take a stance against "big business" and allow a new technology to take hold. Do not delay the inevitable, satellite radio is far superior to am/fm radio in every way, shape and form imaginable. I will protest and vote against any initiative and person who does not allow free enterprize to take its own course.
